Declaration of certain existing rights

3. (1) Nothing in this Act affects the right of an accused person to plead guilty to a charge without entering into any plea negotiation or a plea agreement.

Cap. 1

(2) Except as expressly agreed by a public prosecutor in a plea agreement, nothing in this Act affects the powers conferred upon the public prosecutor under the Constitution or any other written law.

PART II

PLEA NEGOTIATIONS

Plea negotiation

4. (1) Subject to section six, where a public prosecutor considers it desirable in any case, or where the circumstances of the case so warrant, the public prosecutor may, at any time before judgment and in accordance with the provisions of this Act, enter into a plea negotiation with the accused person for the purpose of reaching an agreement in accordance with the provisions of subsection (3), for the disposition of any charge against the accused person.

(2) An accused person may, at any time before judgment and in accordance with the provisions of this Act, enter into a plea negotiation with a public prosecutor for the purpose of reaching an agreement in accordance with the provisions of subsection (3), for the disposition of any charge against the accused person.

(3) An agreement under subsection (1) shall require that—

(a) the accused person undertakes to—

(i) make a guilty plea to an offence which is disclosed on the facts on which the charge against the accused person is based; and

(ii) fulfil the accused person's other obligations specified in the agreement; and

(b) a public prosecutor, having regard to the accused person's undertaking under paragraph (a) agrees to—

(i) take a course of action consistent with the exercise of the powers specified in section five; and

(ii) fulfil the other obligations of the State specified in the agreement.

Exercise by public prosecutor of certain powers

GENERAL PROVISIONS

20. Regulations

SCHEDULE

- (a) withdraw or discontinue the original charge against the accused person; or
- (b) accept the plea of the accused person to a lesser offence, whether originally included or not, than that charged.

6. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary in any other law, a public prosecutor shall, before commencing any plea negotiation, inform the accused person of the accused person's right to representation by a legal practitioner of the accused person's choice and of the right to apply for legal aid in respect of the negotiations. Legal representation

(2) Plea negotiations shall be held by a public prosecutor with the accused person only through the accused person's legal representative.

PART III PLEA AGREEMENTS

7. A plea agreement that is brought before a court shall — Plea agreement

- (a) be in writing;
- (b) contain the information set out in the Schedule; and
- (c) be signed by a public prosecutor, the accused person and the accused person's legal representative in each other's presence.

8. (1) Subject to section seventeen, where a plea agreement is concluded, a public prosecutor shall, where applicable, and unless otherwise required by compelling reasons in the interest of justice, as soon as is reasonably practicable, inform the victim — Victim to be informed of plea agreement

- (a) of the substance of, and reasons for, the plea agreement; and
- (b) that the victim is entitled to be present when the court considers the plea agreement.

(2) Where the victim has died or is incapacitated, a public prosecutor shall communicate with a member of the victim's immediate family or authorised representative in respect of the matters set out in subsection (1).

9. (1) A prosecutor shall in open court or on showing of good cause in chambers — Public prosecutor to notify court of existence of plea agreement

- (a) before the accused person is required to plead; or
- (b) at any time after arraignment;

inform the court, as the case may be, of the existence of a plea agreement.

(2) The court may, where the circumstances appear to so require, question the accused person in order to confirm the accused person's knowledge of the existence of a plea agreement.

Court not bound by plea agreement

10. A court shall not be bound to accept any plea agreement except where the non-acceptance would be contrary to the interests of justice and public interest.

Matters for consideration of court before accepting plea agreement

11. A court shall, before accepting a plea agreement, make a determination in open court that -

- (a) no inducement was offered to the accused person to encourage the accused person to enter into the plea agreement;
- (b) the accused person understands the nature, substance and consequence of the plea agreement;
- (c) there is a factual basis upon which the plea agreement has been made; and
- (d) acceptance of the plea agreement would not be contrary to the interests of justice and public interest.

Refusal by court to accept plea agreement

12. (1) Subsection (2) shall apply where, upon a determination of the matters referred to in section eleven, the court decides that —

- (a) acceptance of the plea agreement would be contrary to the interests of justice and public interest;
- (b) the offence for which the accused person is charged is not disclosed on the facts; or
- (c) there is no confirmation by the accused person of the agreement or the admission contained in the agreement.

(2) The court shall, in the circumstances described in subsection (1) —

- (a) refuse to accept the plea agreement;
- (b) inform the public prosecutor of the decision and the reasons therefor.

(3) The rejection of a plea agreement by a court shall not operate as a bar to the conduct of any subsequent plea negotiation and the conclusion of a subsequent plea agreement in respect of the same case.

(4) The court shall, where it rejects a plea agreement under subsection (2), proceed to try the accused person on the original charge.

Effect of accepting plea agreement

13. Where a plea agreement is accepted by a court, the accused person shall be requested to plead to the new charge.

14. Subject to section seventeen, where a plea agreement has been accepted by the court, the contents thereof shall be entered on the record.

Accepted plea agreement to form part of record

15. (1) The court may on its own motion, or upon application by an accused person who entered into a plea agreement, allow the accused person to withdraw from that agreement before sentence, or to appeal against a conviction based on the agreement, if—

Withdrawal from plea agreement

- (a) the accused person entered into the agreement as a result of an improper inducement;
- (b) the court determines that the public prosecutor has breached the terms of the plea agreement; or
- (c) the accused person entered into the agreement as a result of a misrepresentation or misapprehension as to the substance or consequences of the plea agreement.

(2) A public prosecutor may withdraw from a plea agreement before sentence where the public prosecutor subsequently discovers

- (a) that the public prosecutor was in the course of plea negotiations misled by the accused person or by the accused person's legal representative in some material respect; or
- (b) that the accused person was induced to conclude the plea agreement.

16. Evidence of the following matters is not, in any civil or criminal proceedings, admissible against an accused person who entered into an agreement or is a party to any plea negotiations:

Admissibility of plea agreement, etc.

- (a) a plea of guilty which was later withdrawn or any statement made in the course of any proceedings under this Act regarding the plea of guilty; or
- (b) any statement made in the course of plea negotiations with the public prosecutor which does not result in a plea of guilty or which results in a plea of guilty that is later withdrawn.

17. The court may, upon application, order that the records of any plea negotiation or a plea agreement be sealed, where the court is satisfied that the sealing of the records is in the interests of the effective administration of justice.

Sealing of records of plea negotiations

Obligation for secrecy

18. (1) A person exercising any function under this Act shall treat as secret and confidential, all information relating to a plea agreement before it is presented to the court or consequent upon the records thereof being sealed by the court.

(2) Any person referred to in subsection (1) having possession of, or control over, any document, information or record, who communicates or attempts to communicate anything contained in the document or record or any such information to any person otherwise than in accordance with this Act or pursuant to a court order, commits an offence and is liable, upon conviction, to a fine not exceeding one hundred thousand penalty units or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve months, or to both.

(3) Any person to whom information is communicated in accordance with this Act shall regard and deal with the information as secret and confidential.

(4) A person referred to in subsection (3) who at any time communicates or attempts to communicate any information referred to in that subsection to any person otherwise than for the purposes of this Act, commits an offence and is liable, upon conviction, to a fine not exceeding one hundred thousand penalty units or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve months, or to both.

Grant of legal aid

19. Legal aid may be granted to—

(a) any person who is detained at a police station or in a lock up, correctional institution or other similar place; or

(b) an accused person in respect of the conduct of any plea negotiation under section four.
